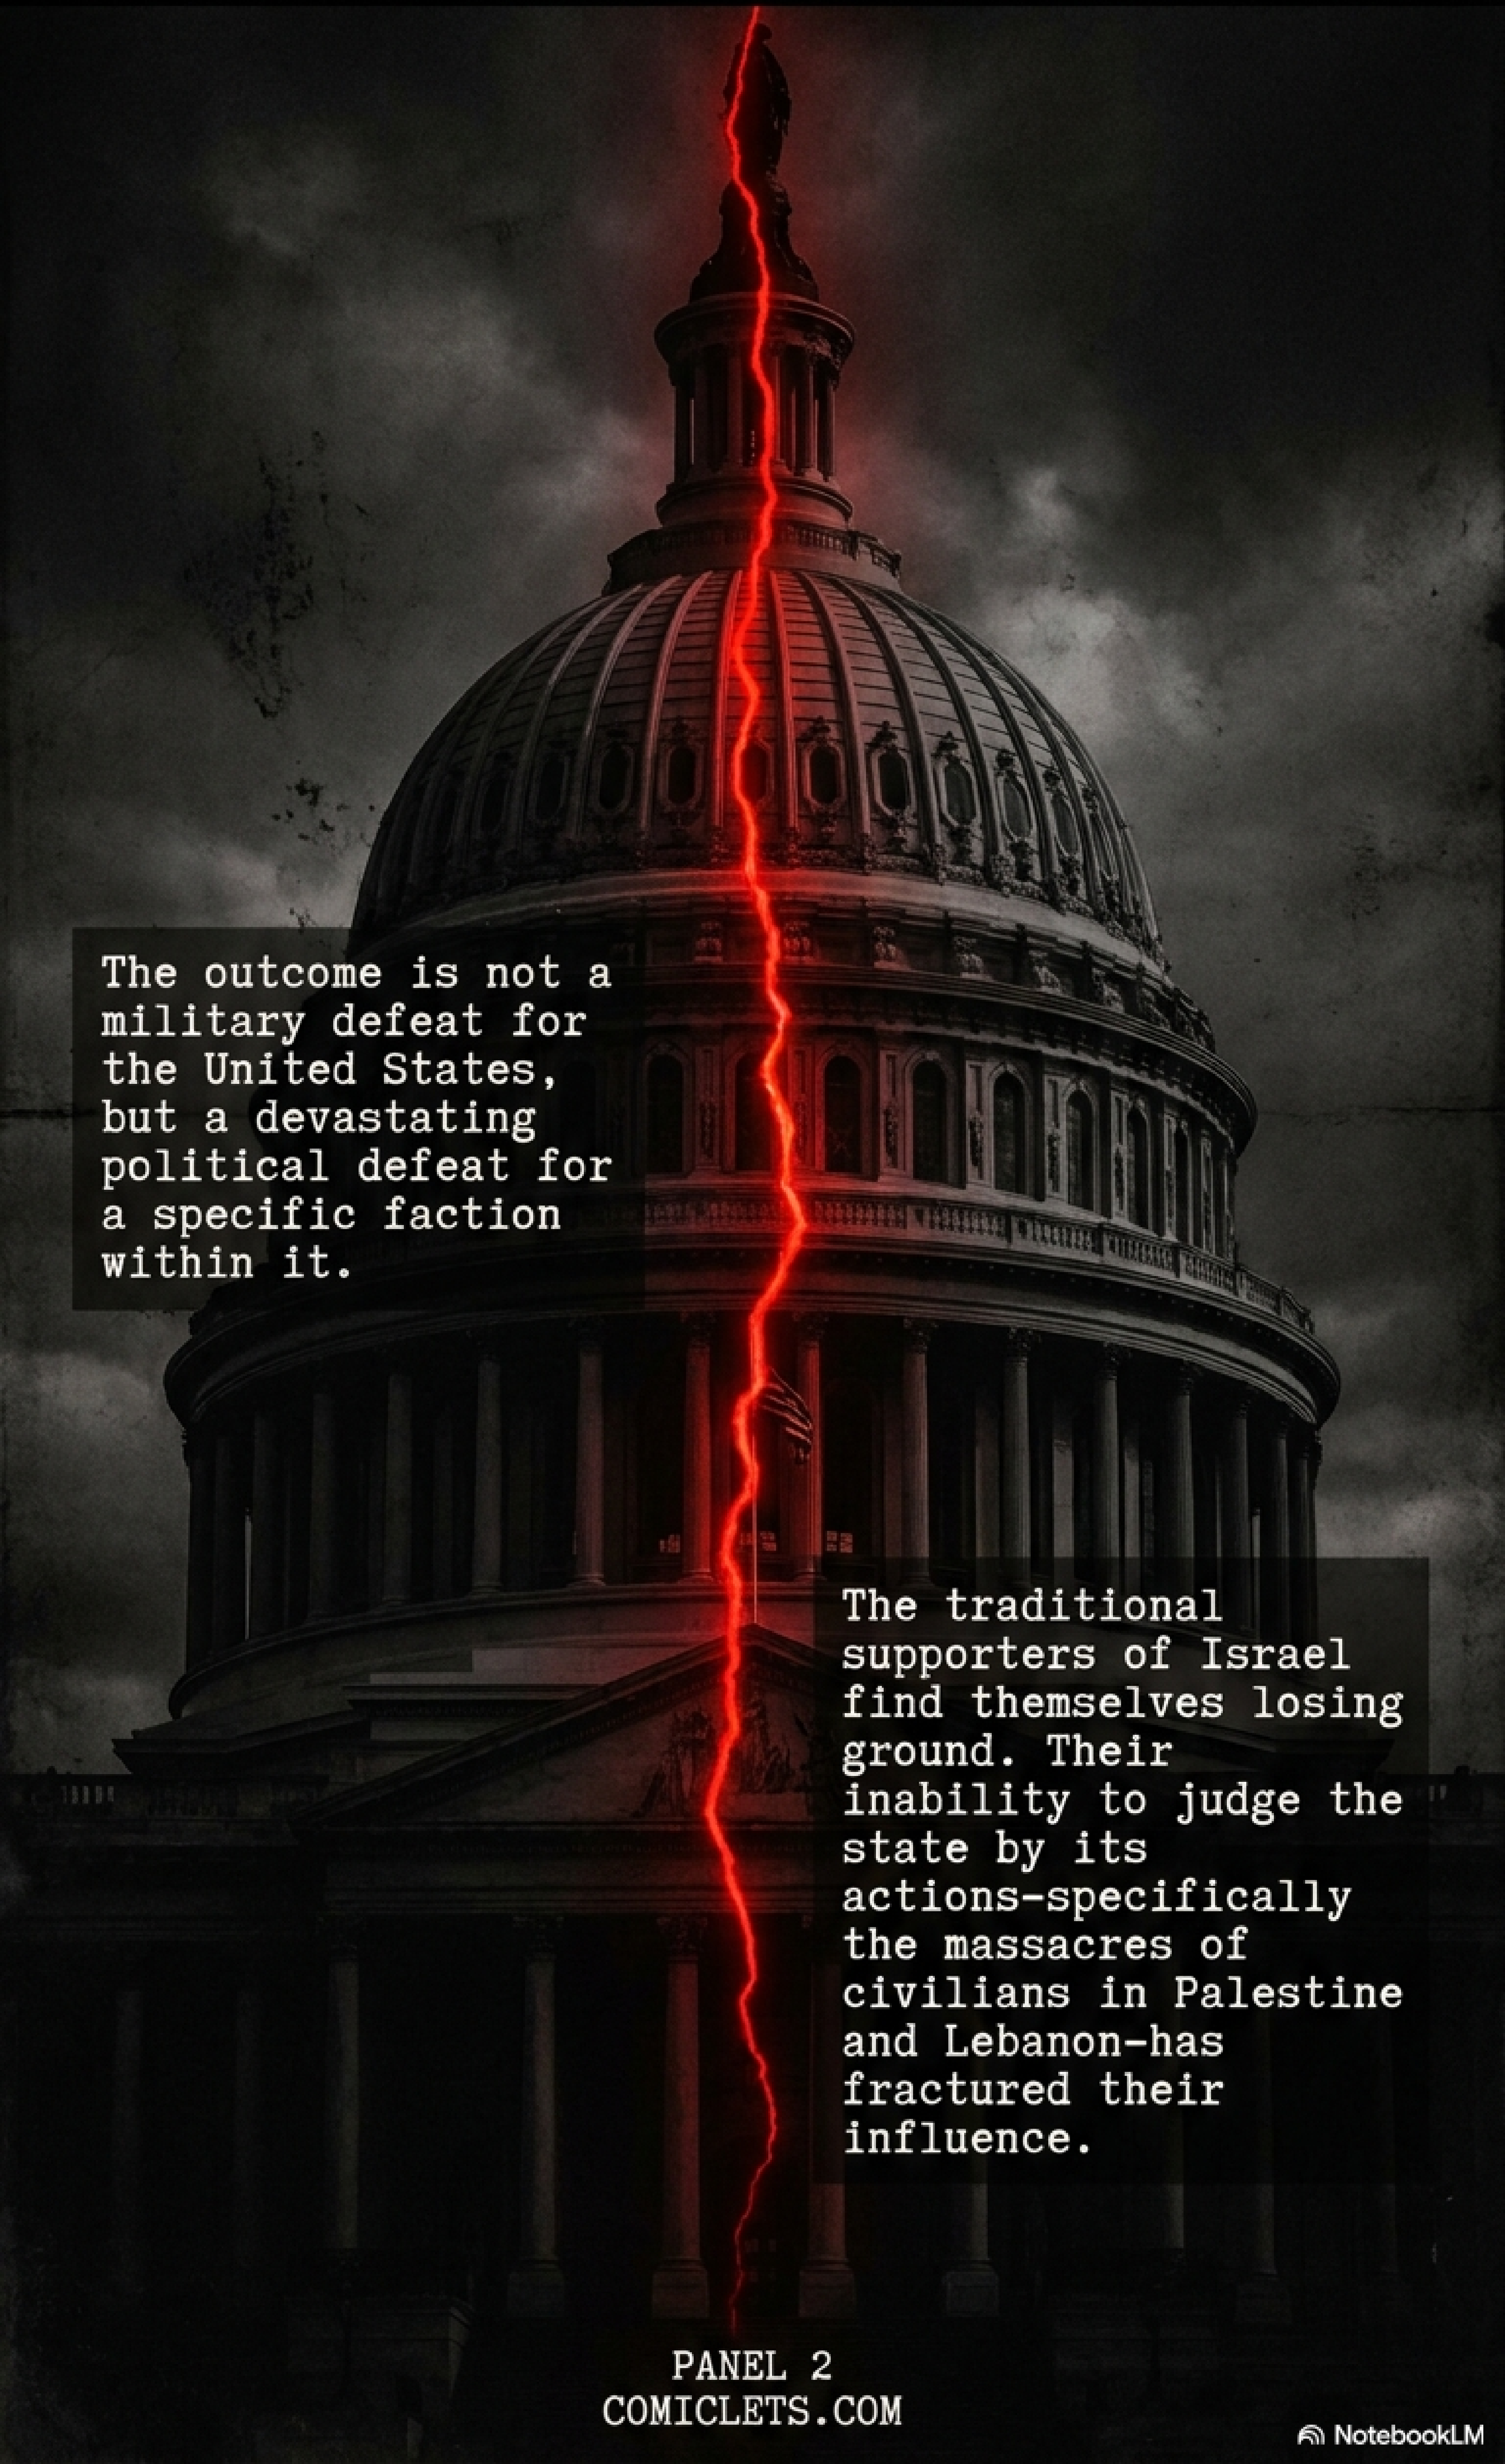
THE ISLAMABAD MEMORANDUM

Peace is established in the Persian Gulf, bringing a seismic shift to the region.

The agreement stipulates that Iran will receive $300 Billion.

Crucially, this is classified not as “war reparations,” but as an “investment”—an implicit acknowledgment of the Islamic Republic’s victory.

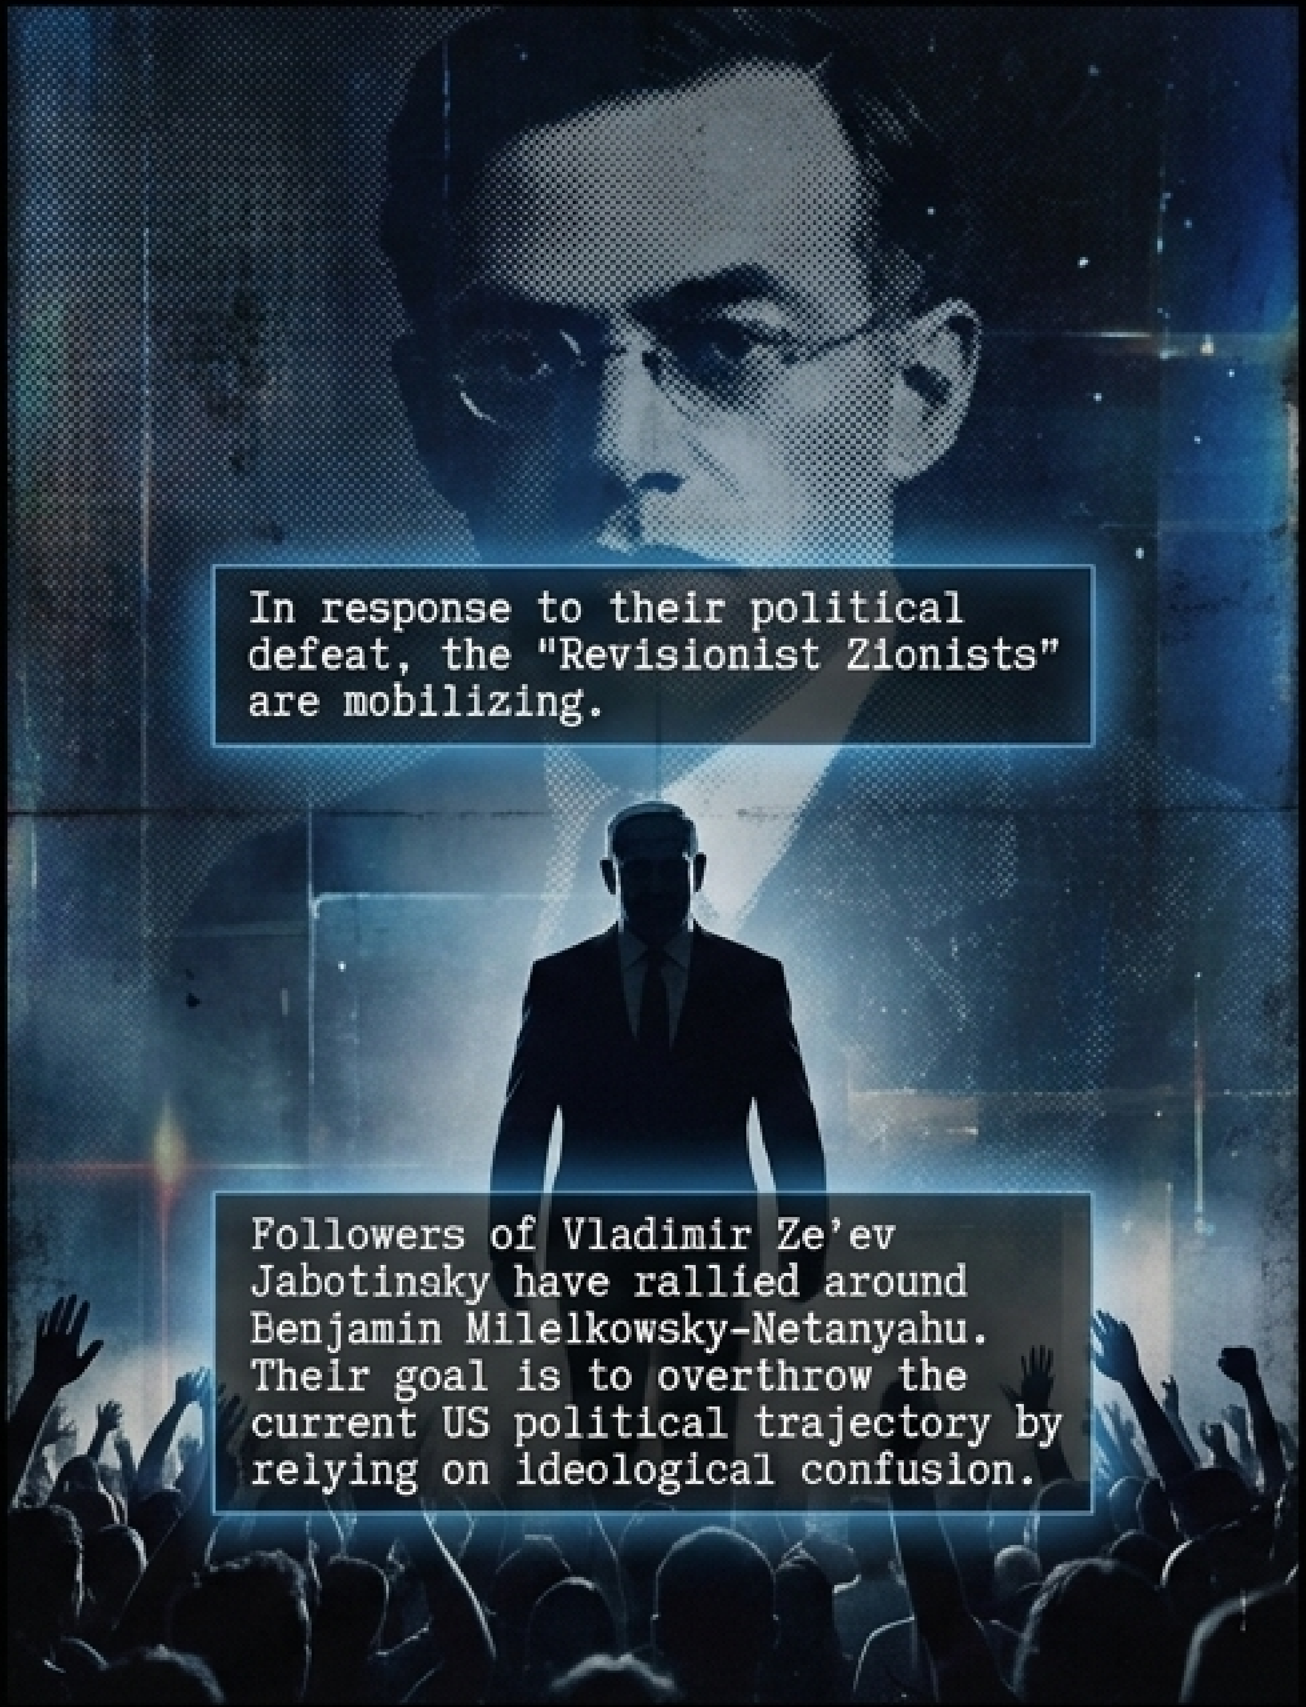
A POLITICAL DEFEAT



The outcome is not a military defeat for the United States, but a devastating political defeat for a specific faction within it.

The traditional supporters of Israel find themselves losing ground. Their inability to judge the state by its actions-specifically the massacres of civilians in Palestine and Lebanon-has fractured their influence.

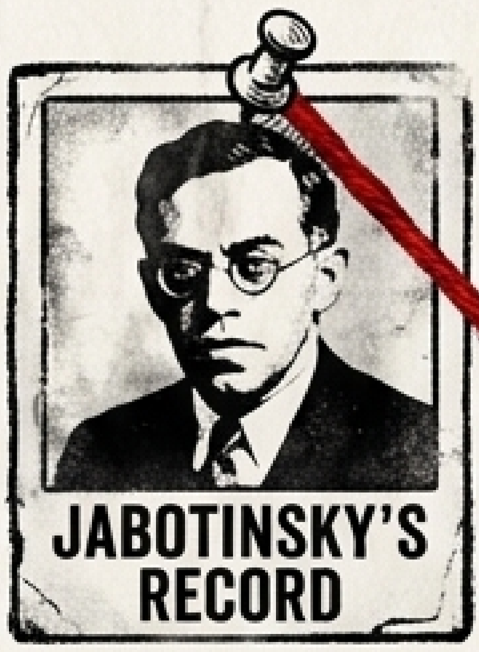
THE RISE OF REVISIONIST ZIONISM

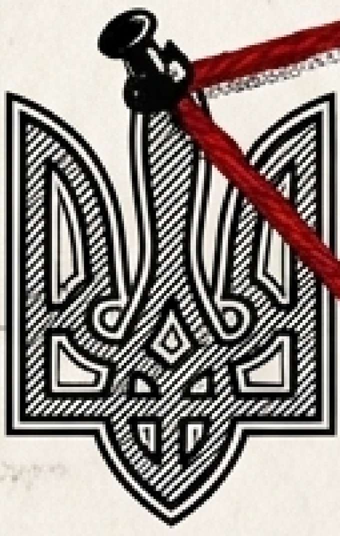


In response to their political defeat, the "Revisionist Zionists" are mobilizing.
Followers of Vladimir Ze’ev Jabotinsky have rallied around Benjamin Milelkowsky-Netanyahu. Their goal is to overthrow the current US political trajectory by relying on ideological confusion.

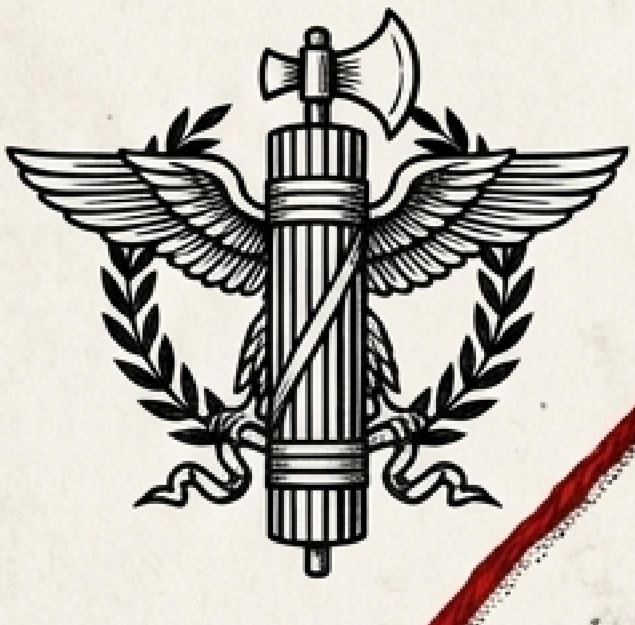
A HISTORY OF FASCIST ALLIANCES

The Revisionist Zionists waged a bitter historical war against the mainstream Zionists of Theodor Herzl.





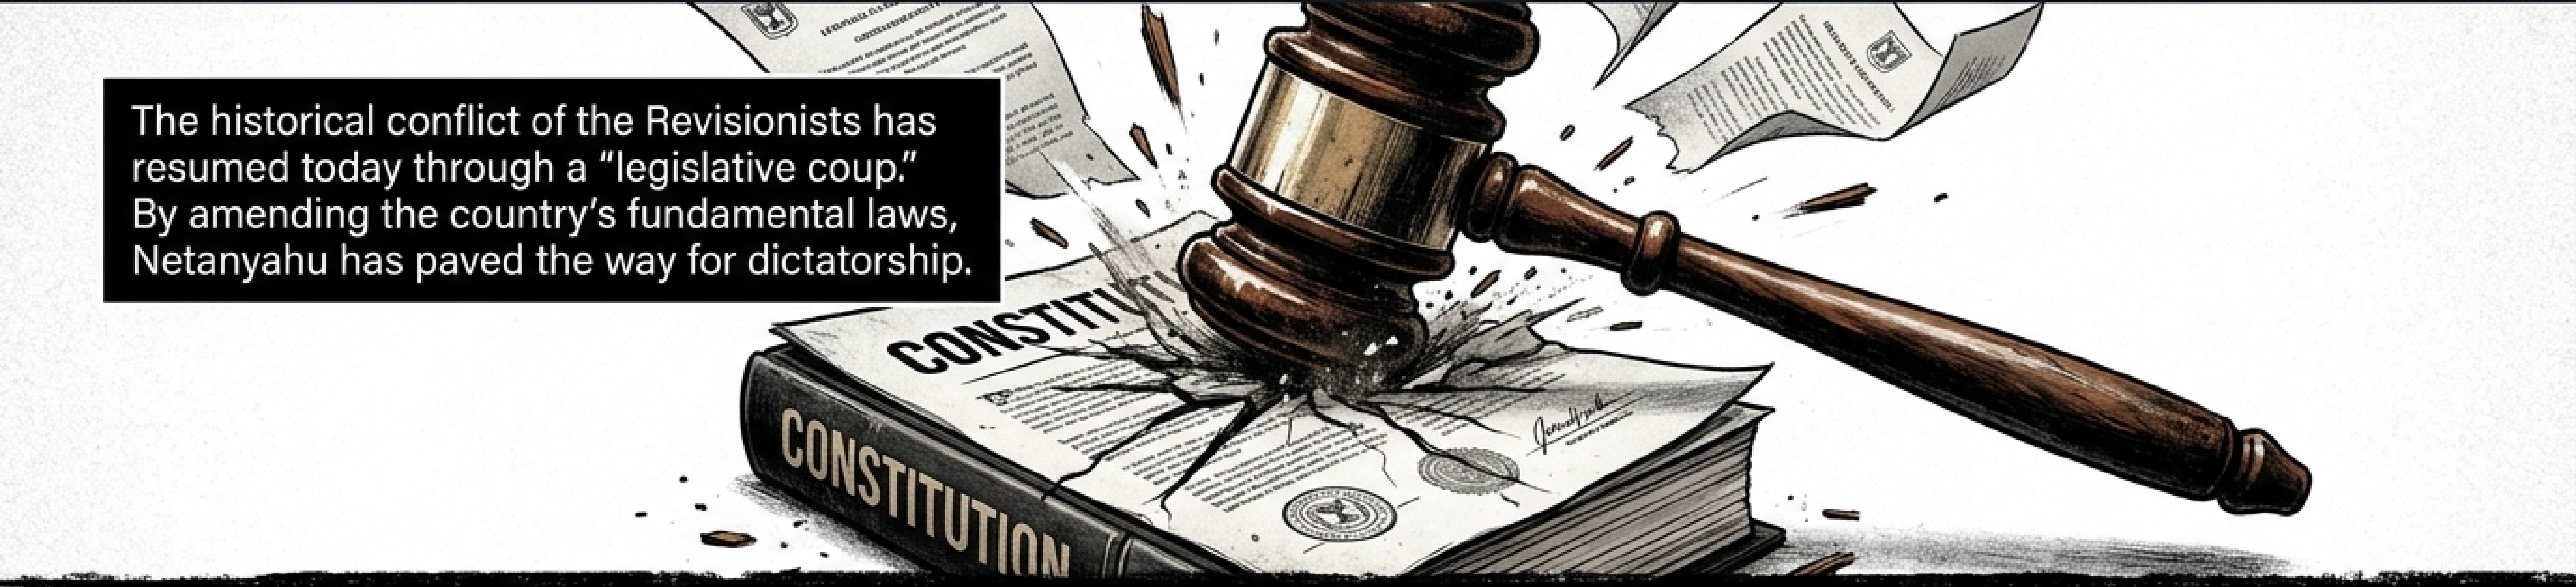
- An alliance with Ukrainian "integral nationalists"



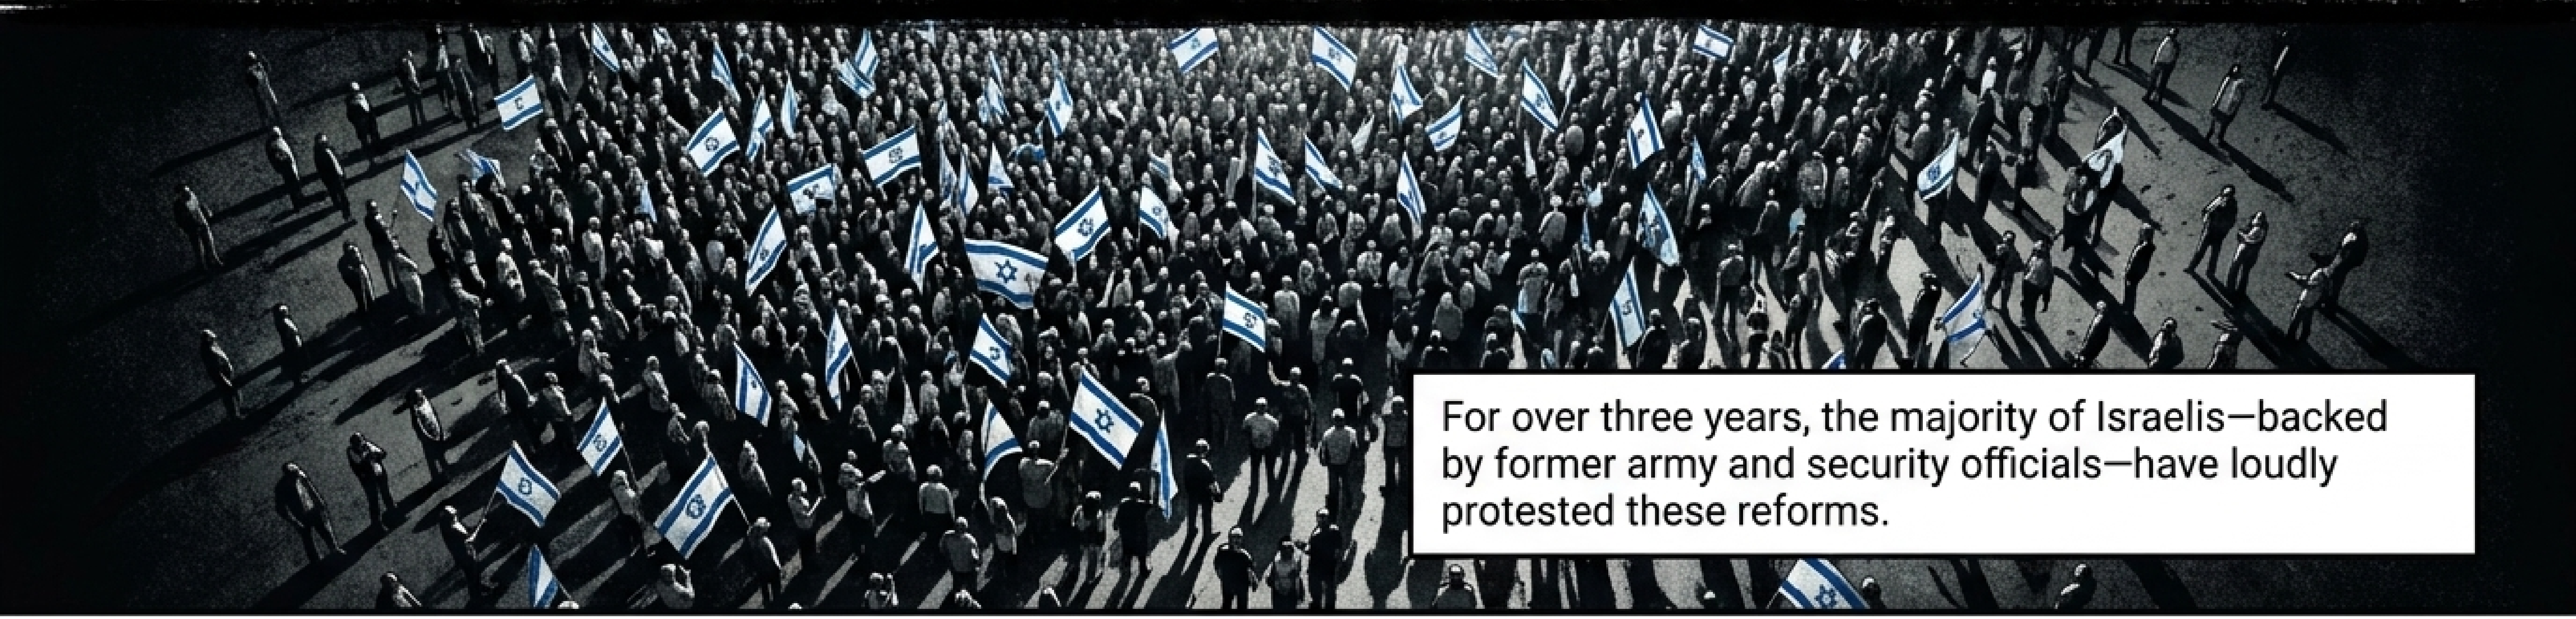
- Explicit support for Duce Benito Mussolini

- Negotiations with the Nazis to seize the property of Hungarian Zionists

NETANYAHU'S LEGISLATIVE COUP



The historical conflict of the Revisionists has resumed today through a "legislative coup." By amending the country's fundamental laws, Netanyahu has paved the way for dictatorship.



For over three years, the majority of Israelis—backed by former army and security officials—have loudly protested these reforms.

THE ADELSON PIPELINE

Supporters of this policy in the US have rallied around the Adelson Foundation, named after the late Ukrainian-Israeli-American casino magnate.

VOTE
2024

- 2016 & 2023: Backed Donald Trump.
- Today (GOP): Backing Marco Rubio.
- Today (DNC): Backing Rahm Emanuel.

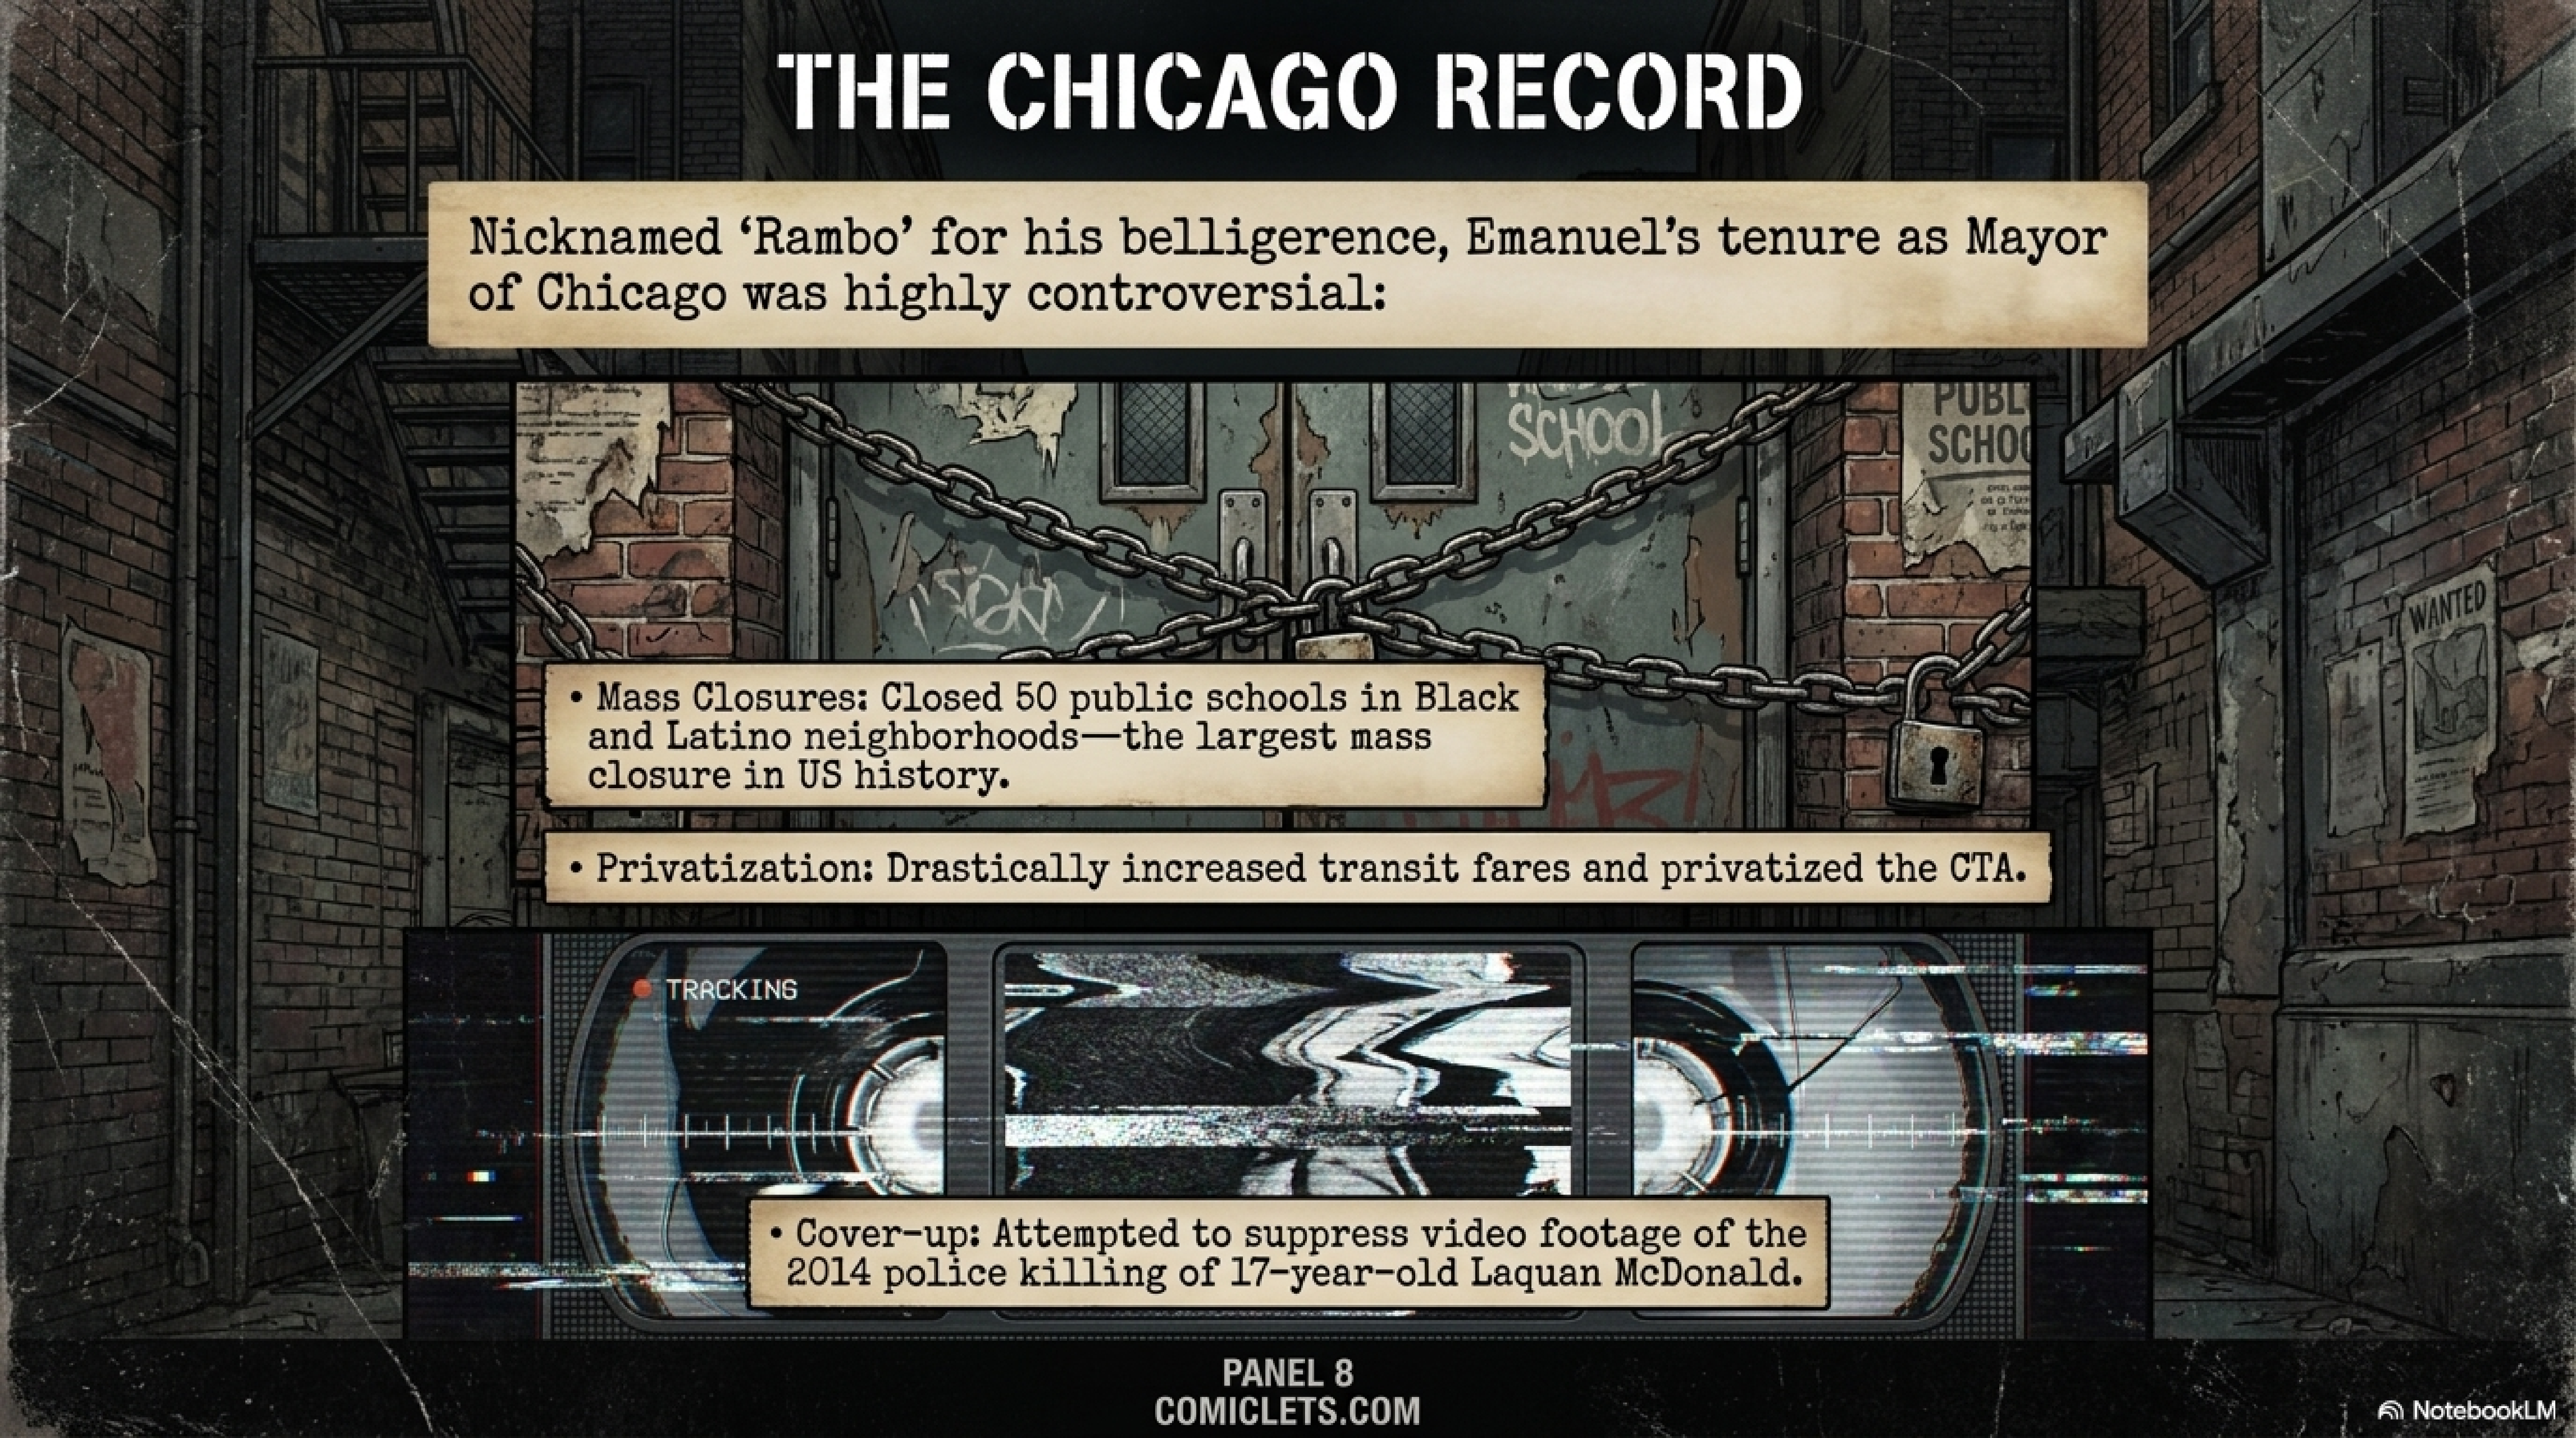
OPERATIVE DOSSIER: RAHM EMANUEL

Rahm Emanuel carries a deeply entrenched Revisionist legacy.

- He is the son of Benjamin Auerbach, a revisionist Zionist and member of the Irgun terrorist organizetion. Auerbach fled Israel after the assassination of UN Special Envoy Count Polke Bernadotte in 1948.
- In the 1990s, Rahm Auerbach-Emanuel volunteered for the Israel Defense Forces during the Gulf War.

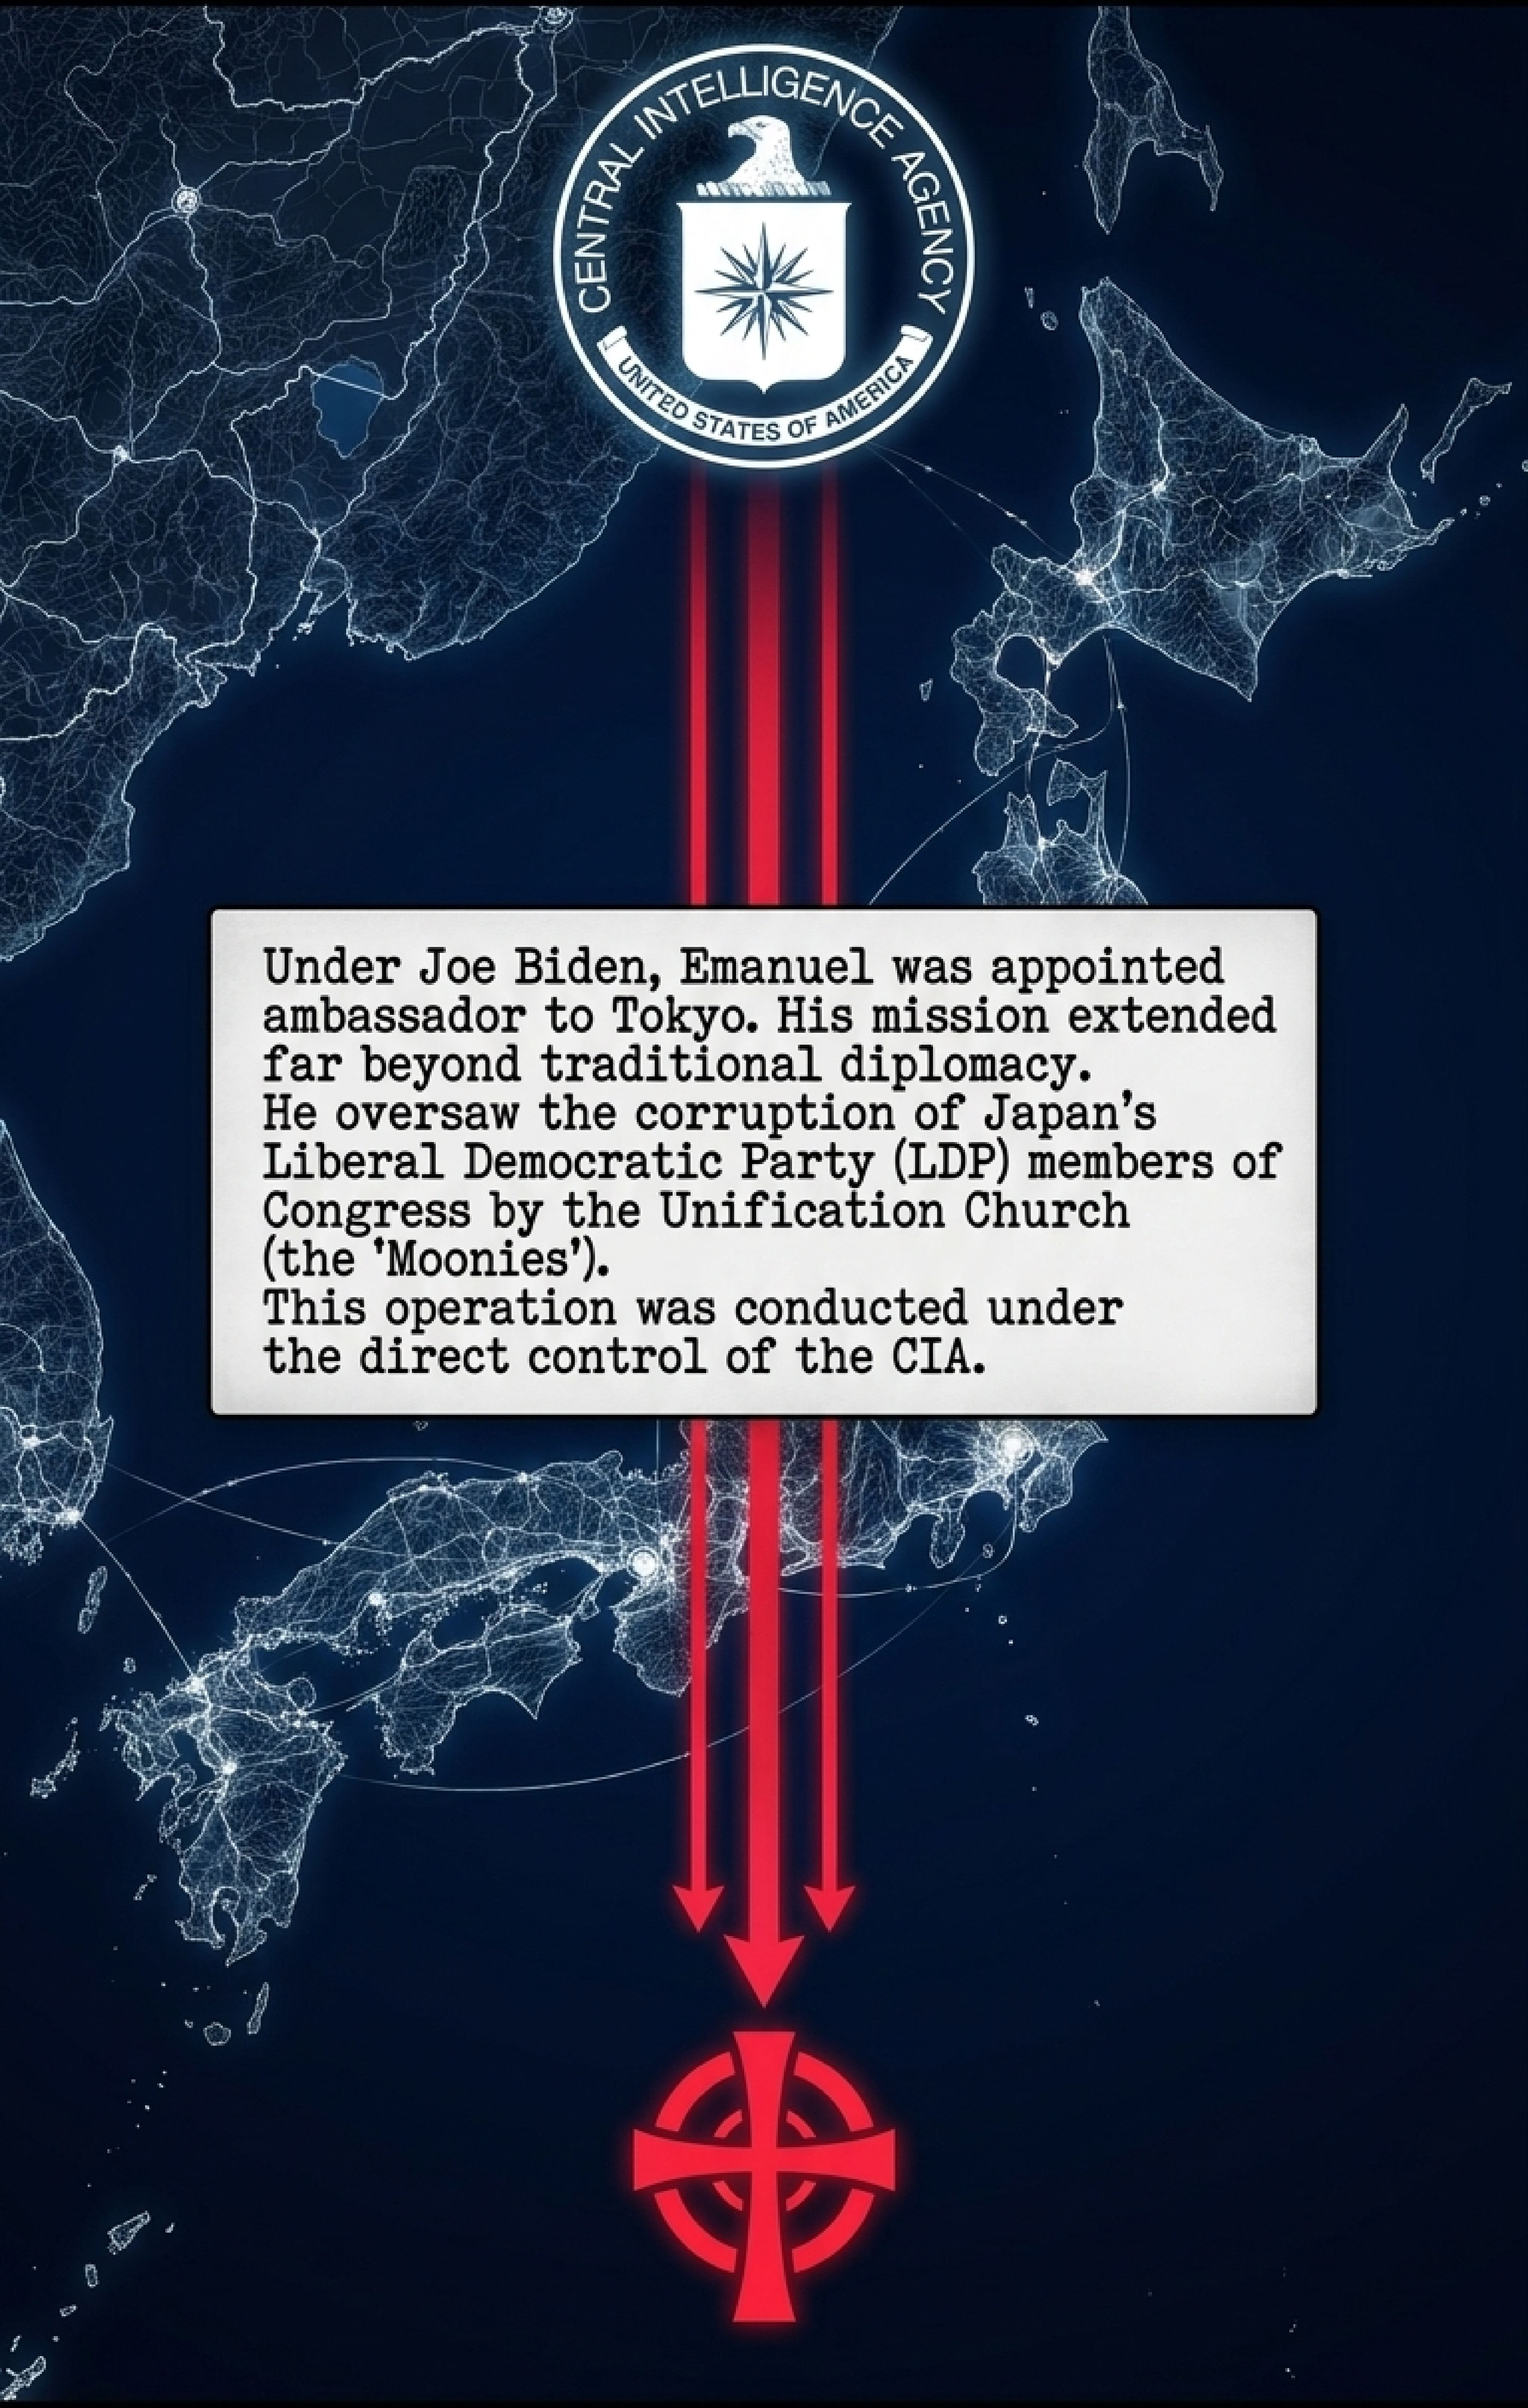
THE CHICAGO RECORD

Nicknamed ‘Rambo’ for his belligerence, Emanuel’s tenure as Mayor of Chicago was highly controversial:



- Mass Closures: Closed 50 public schools in Black and Latino neighborhoods—the largest mass closure in US history.
- Privatization: Drastically increased transit fares and privatized the CTA.
- Cover-up: Attempted to suppress video footage of the 2014 police killing of 17-year-old Laquan McDonald.

THE TOKYO ASSIGNMENT



CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Under Joe Biden, Emanuel was appointed ambassador to Tokyo. His mission extended far beyond traditional diplomacy.
He oversaw the corruption of Japan's Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) members of Congress by the Unification Church (the 'Moonies').
This operation was conducted under the direct control of the CIA.

THE BACKUP ASSETS

Given visceral Democratic reactions to Netanyahu's massacres, the Revisionist Zionists need alternatives.

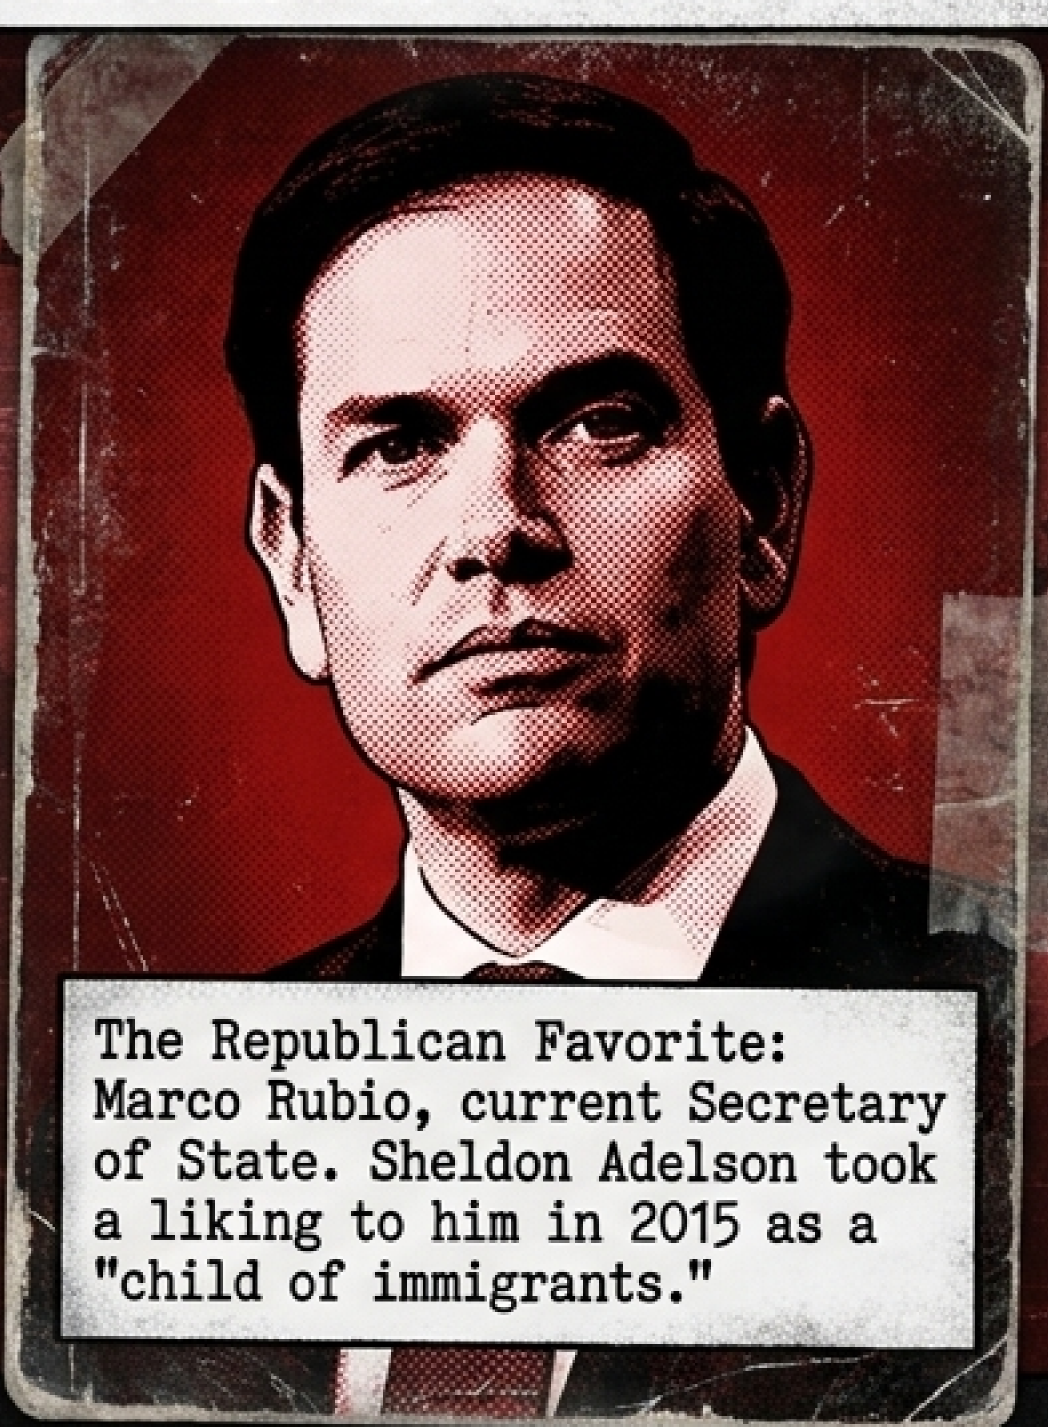
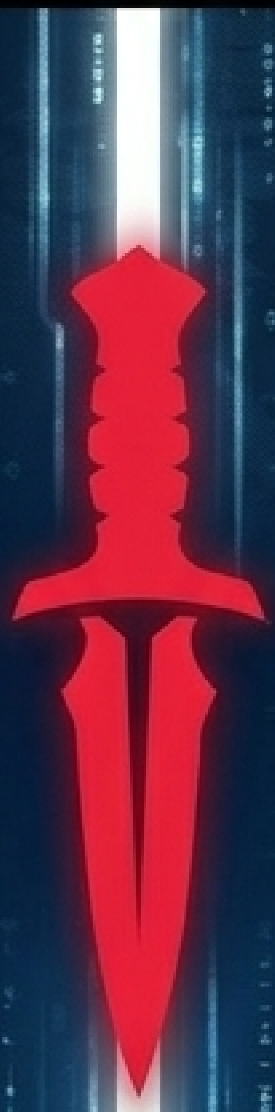
The Democratic Reserve: Josh Shapiro, Governor of Pennsylvania, is kept in reserve as a less controversial candidate.



The Republican Favorite: Marco Rubio, current Secretary of State. Sheldon Adelson took a liking to him in 2015 as a "child of immigrants."

THE UAE'S SHIFTING LOYALTIES



2010

The UAE formerly financed the Palestinian cause through Prince Ahmed. In 2010, he was assassinated by the CIA.

2020

By 2020, his brother, Sheikh Mohammed bin Zayed, changed course. He opted for an alliance with Israel against Iran—despite owing part of their wealth to bypassing US blockades on Iran via Dubai. They signed the Abraham Accords alongside Bahrain.

THE LOGIC OF RETALIATION

When Israel and the US attacked Iran, Iran retaliated by bombing the Emirates. Initially, the UAE sought UN and International Maritime Organization condemnations. But ultimately, a profound realization set in:

US/Israel attacks Iran.

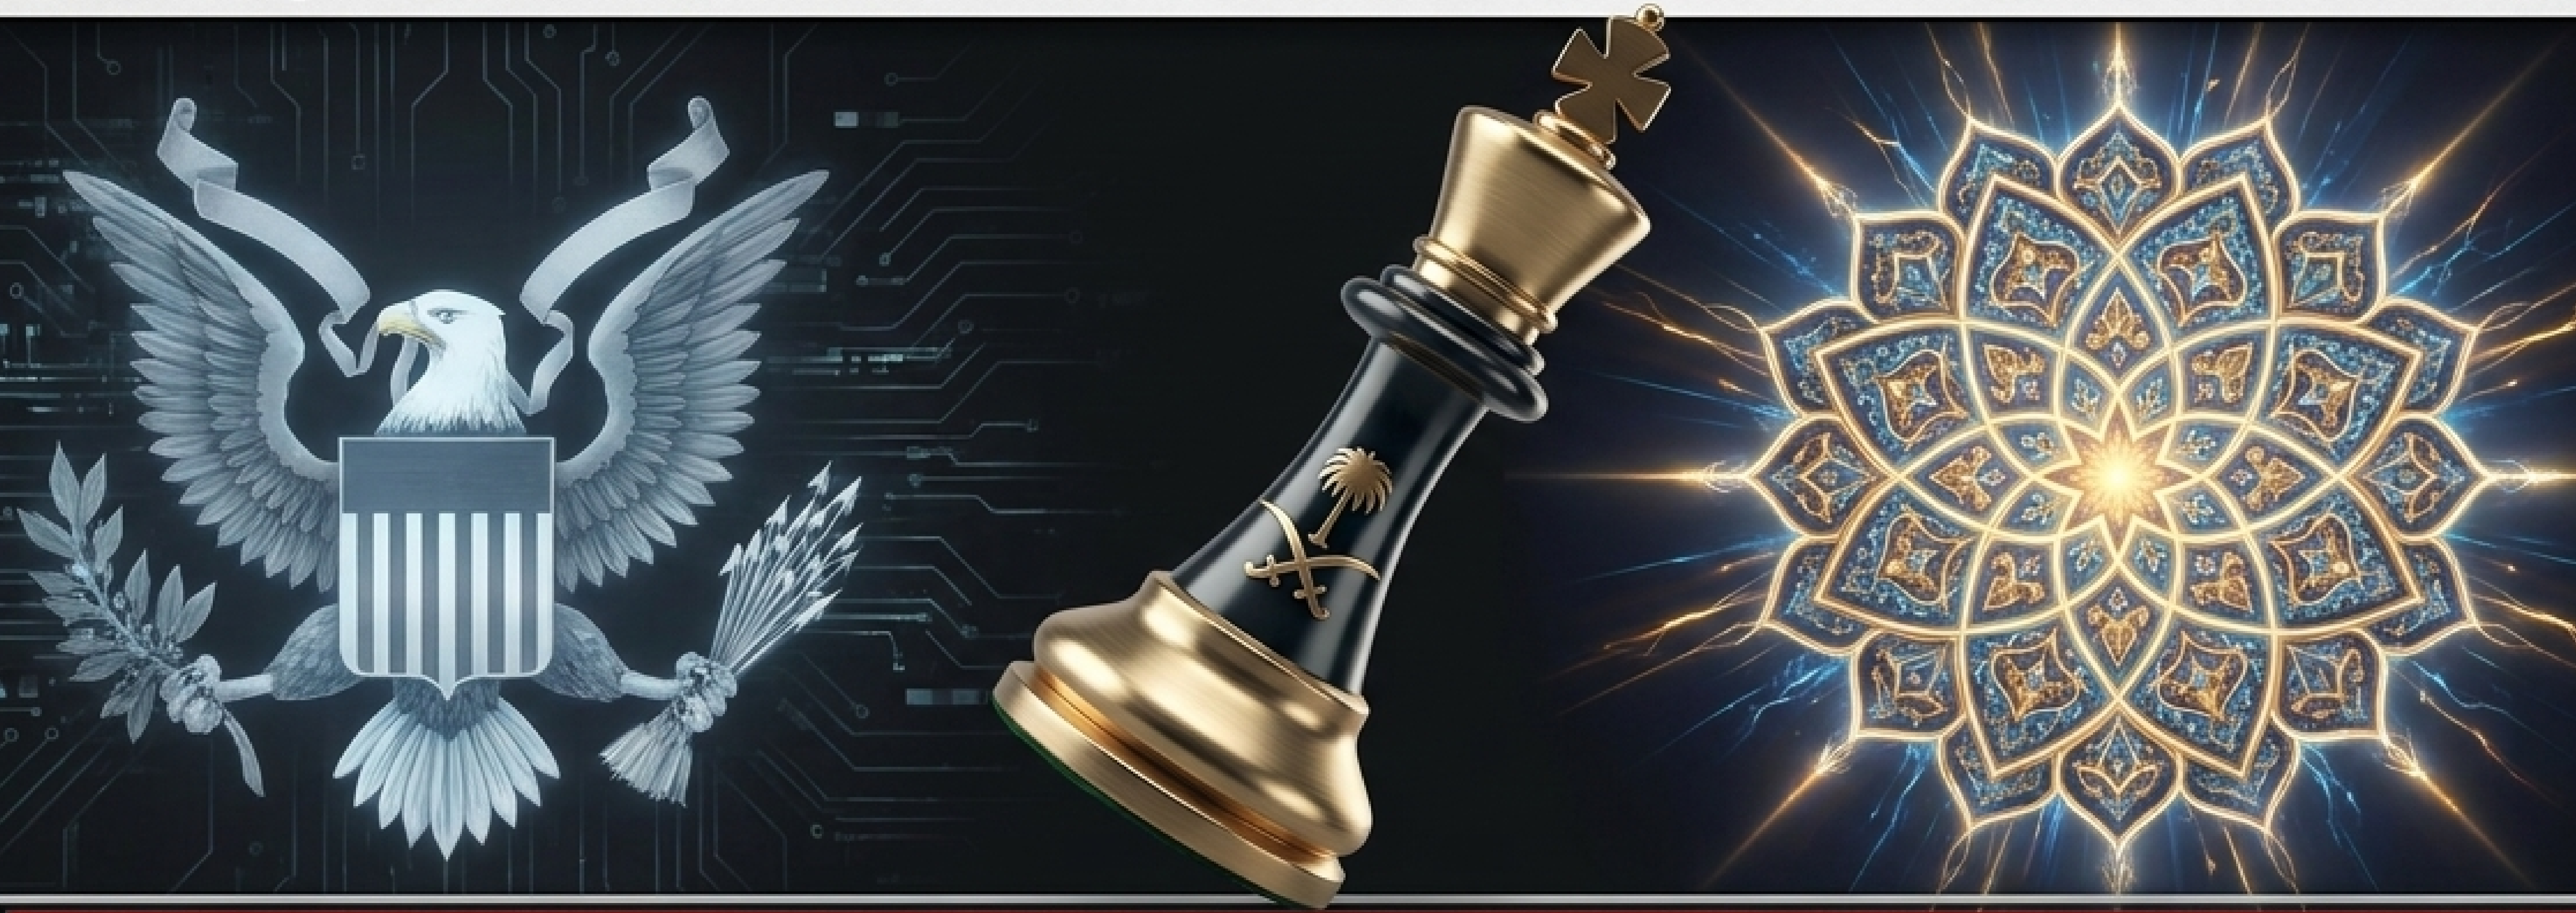
Iran bombs UAE.

Placed in the exact same situation, the UAE admitted they would have acted just like Iran.

Last week, they secretly agreed to negotiate with their former Iranian allies.

SAUDI ARABIA'S PIVOT

Saudi Arabia had assured President Trump they had no issue with the Pentagon overthrowing the Islamic Republic.



But after taking military fire on their own soil, Riyadh drew a stark conclusion: Israel is prepared to do anything to carve out an empire, and the US turns its vassals into targets rather than protecting them.

Riyadh is now preparing a reconciliation summit with Iran and the Gulf states.

MISSION TO SAVE THE ACCORDS

KUWAIT
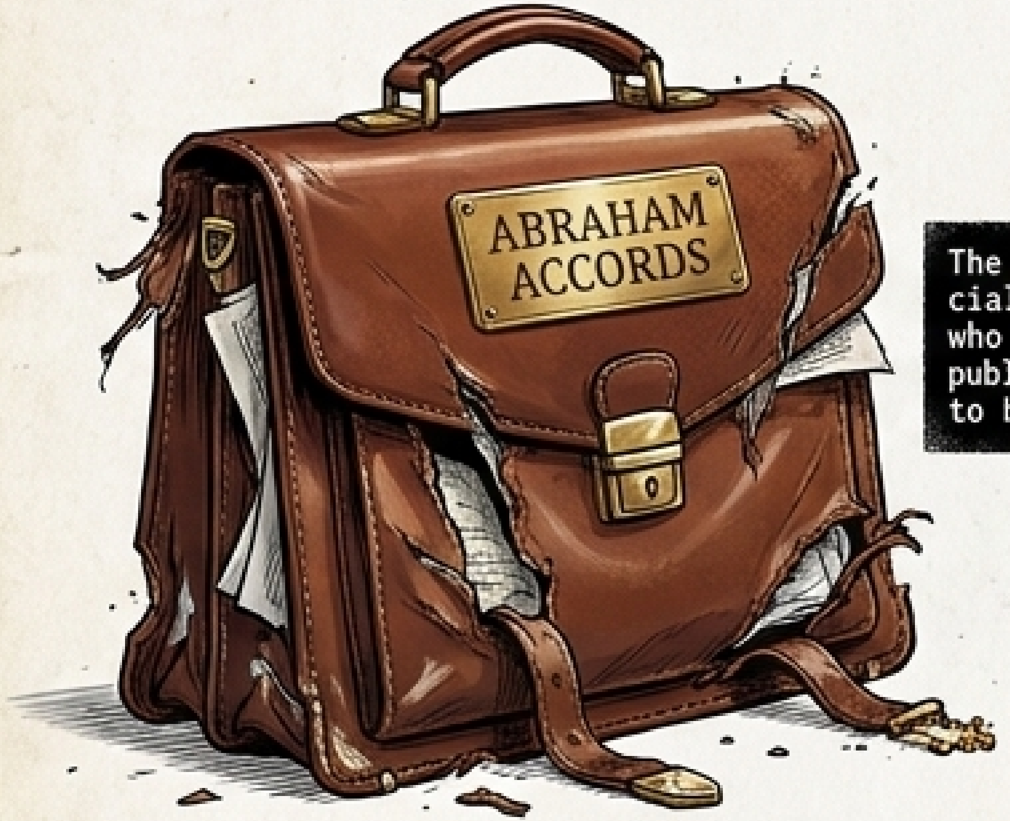
EMIRATES

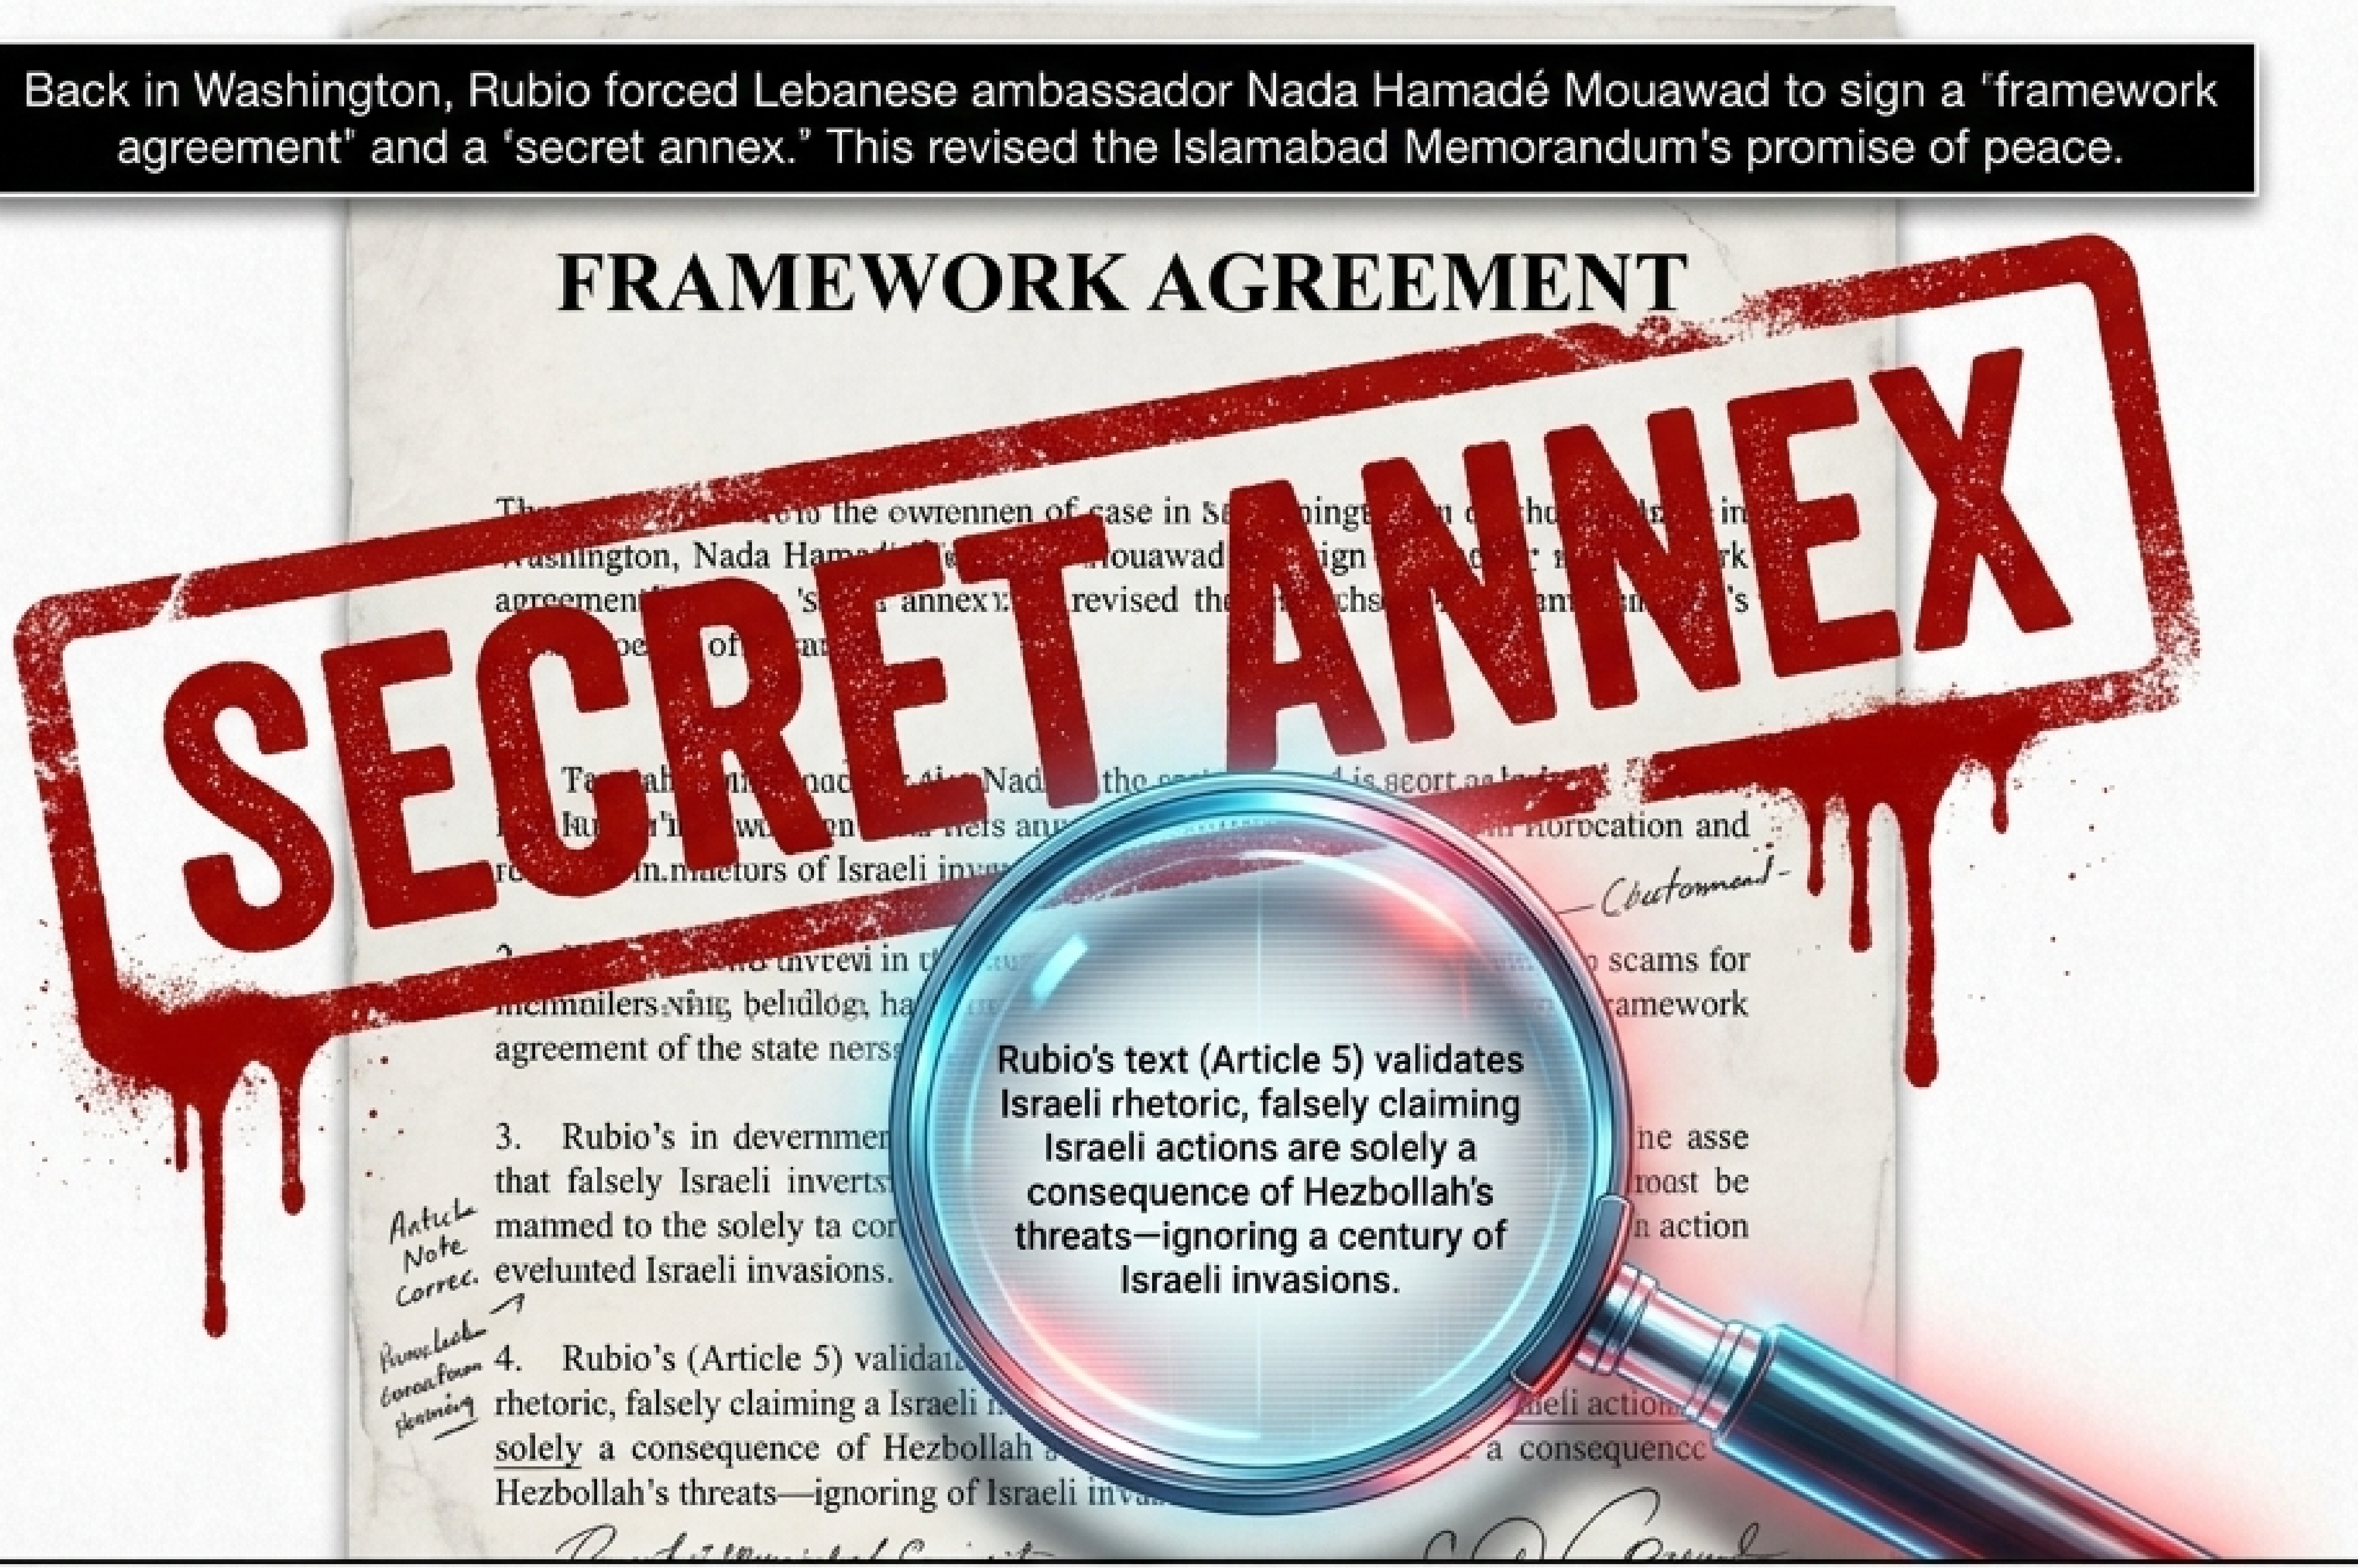
With the Middle East rapidly realigning, Secretary of State Marco Rubio traveled to the Emirates, Kuwait, and Bahrain to meet with the Gulf Cooperation Council. His mission: desperately revive the Abraham Accords.



The task is daunting—especially as Jared Kushner, who negotiated them, now publicly considers Netanyahu to be mentally ill.

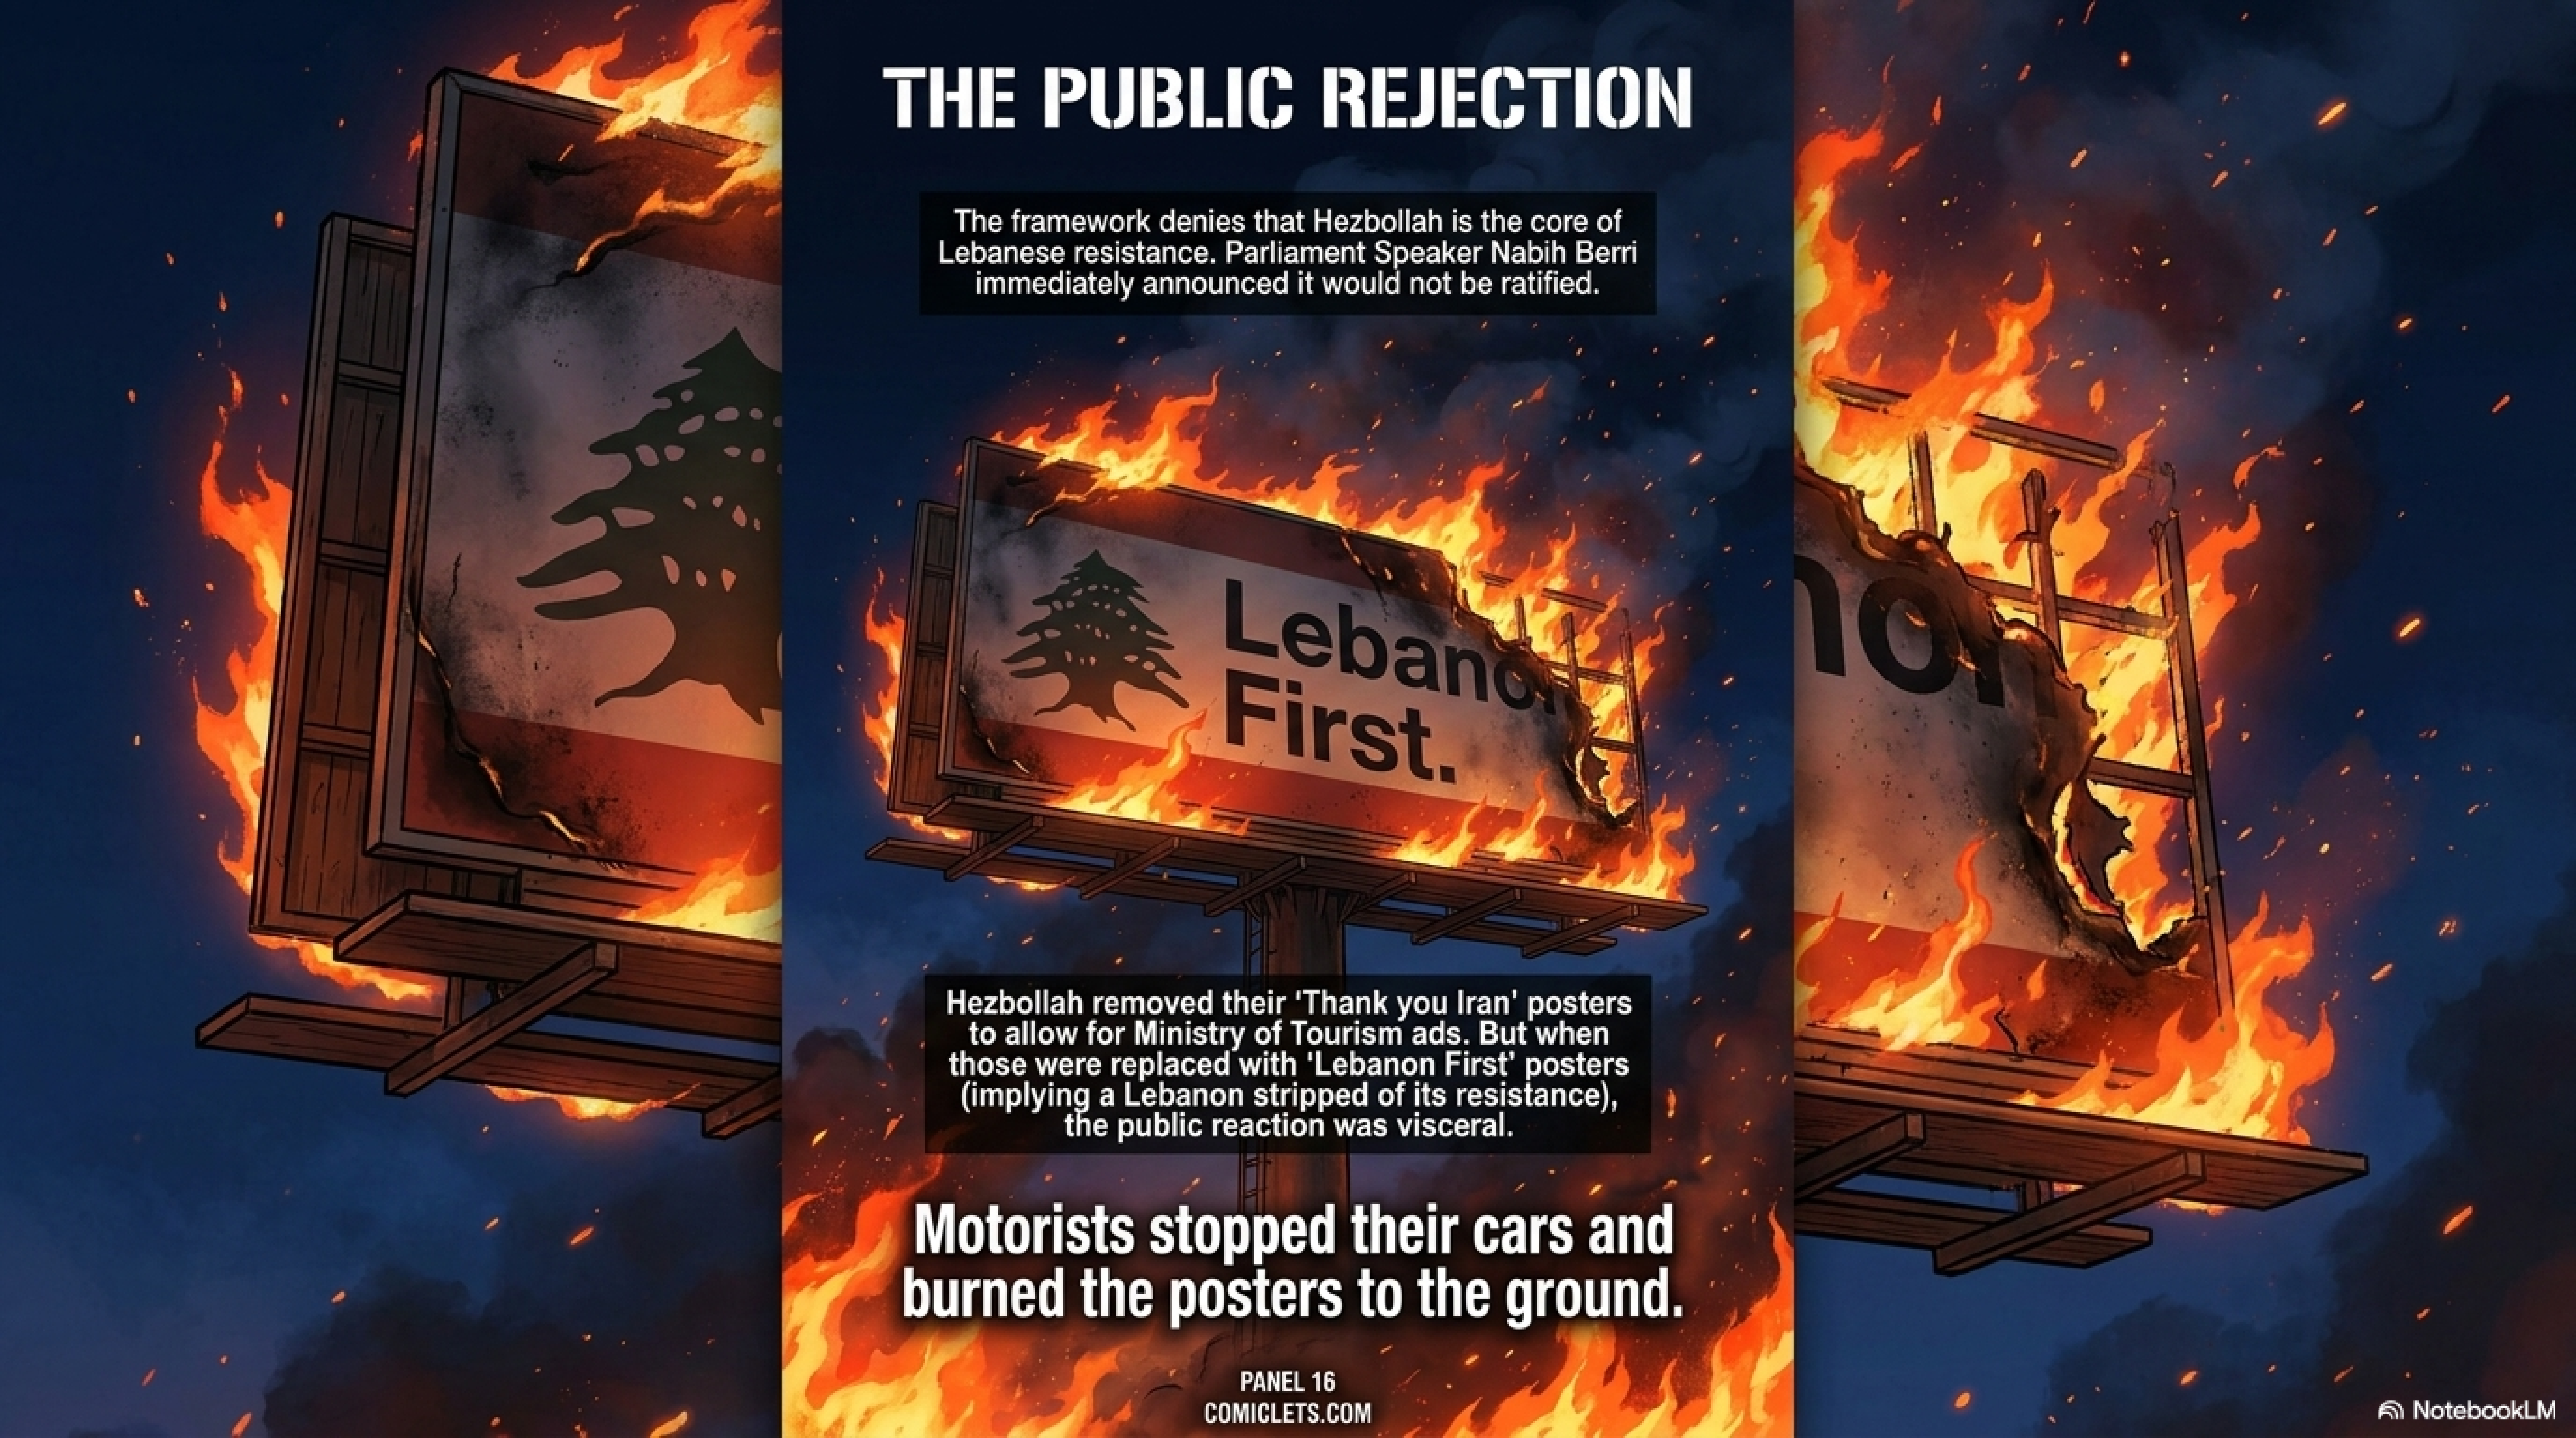
THE FORCED LEBANON FRAMEWORK

Back in Washington, Rubio forced Lebanese ambassador Nada Hamadé Mouawad to sign a "framework agreement" and a "secret annex." This revised the Islamabad Memorandum's promise of peace.



Rubio's text (Article 5) validates Israeli rhetoric, falsely claiming Israeli actions are solely a consequence of Hezbollah's threats—ignoring a century of Israeli invasions.

THE PUBLIC REJECTION



The framework denies that Hezbollah is the core of Lebanese resistance. Parliament Speaker Nabih Berri immediately announced it would not be ratified.

Hezbollah removed their 'Thank you Iran' posters to allow for Ministry of Tourism ads. But when those were replaced with 'Lebanon First' posters (implying a Lebanon stripped of its resistance), the public reaction was visceral.

Motorists stopped their cars and burned the posters to the ground.
